

CAR

Centre for Air pollution, energy and health Research
An NHMRC Centre of Research Excellence

Centre for Air pollution, energy and health Research

Ivan Hanigan, CAR and The University of Sydney School of Public Health

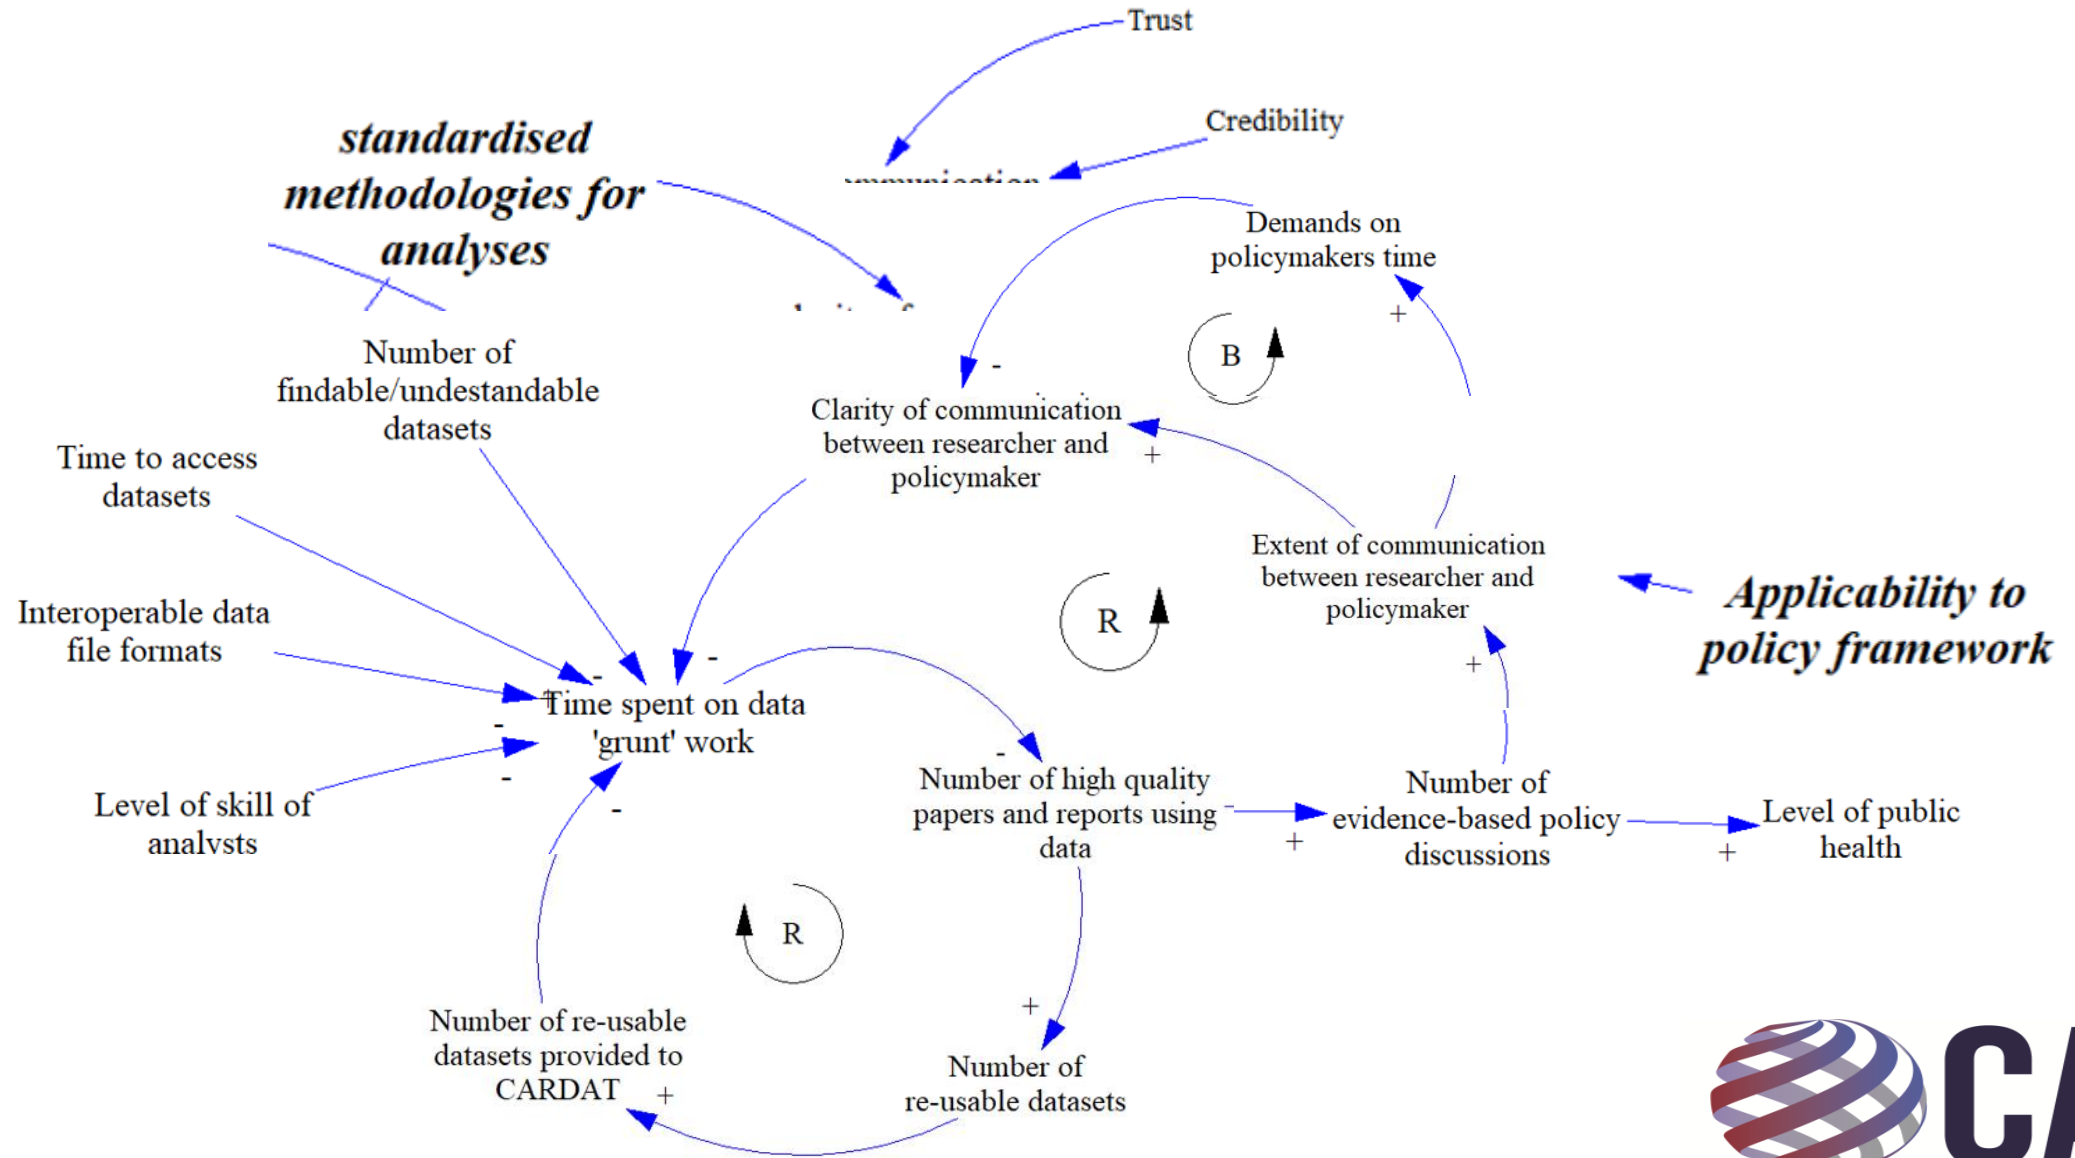

The project in a nutshell = CARDAT (Data & Analysis Technology) needs to support 'translational research' between CAR researchers and 'externals'

Key issues

Lessons learnt

Acknowledgments

- Attendees at workshop 'translational science: what are the key barriers for data analysts and policy makers?' on Zoom Oct-15th.
- Cofacilitator: Christy Geromboux (CAR/USyd – data curator).
- Advisor: Barry Newell (ANU – System Dynamicist).
- Anonymised attendees: One state environment agency epidemiologist and policy worker, two state environment agency policy workers, one university epidemiologist and former policy worker, a university geographer and former policy worker, one university geographer and a university data scientist.
- Funders: ARDC, NHMRC, EPA Victoria
- Service providers: CoESRA, Cloudstor
- Data providers: State environment agencies, ABS, AIHW, etc

